Flight of the Vulgar Vultures

1943-1945

Roll Call

No history of the 455th Bombardment Group (H) would be complete without the names of those persons who, by their service, made the history contained in this book. In this section are listed by name, rank and unit, the officers and airmen who served with the 455th Bombardment Group.

NOTE: This list is the result of several hundred hours spent researching copies of orders, pictures and other items supplied by individuals; war diaries of squadrons and individuals, correspondence and visits with former members. The list is not presented as being complete with all names spelled correctly. The rank listed is the highest rank found in doing the research. Many likely held higher rank. In some cases, it is the retired rank of the individual.

GP indicates Group Headquarters. Individuals who served at both Squadron and Group level are listed at Squadron level. If more than one Squadron, a random selection has been made. For brevity last name designations, i.e., Jr., Sr., etc., have been eliminated.

Credits & References

There are so many who provided material for this history that it is impossible to list all of them. There were those who sent pictures to Hugh Graff and Tom Ramey for consideration. The pictures by themselves would make a book. Everything could not be included but it was not because it lacked importance.

For editing and typing, David Asch and his lovely wife, Marcia, and Richard Graff were especially helpful. Richard C. Humphrey sent us a 35-page letter about his experiences as a maintenance engineer which was read with great interest and parts of it used. J.L. Bethune, III sent an account of his father's experiences with his crew on the Steyr raid. Erling Kindem sent us his diary of his Army Air Corps career which gave us an insight to the life of a combat gunner. Horace Lanford provided many articles we used about his Squadron, the 741st, and Group activities as did Edward "Ed" Ambrosen about his Squadron, the 742nd. William W. Dunlap and James Shumard, Jr. sent us information of their experiences as replacement crews which we included. William L. Rogers gave us a fine account of him and his crew getting shot down over Yugoslavia and escaping with the help of the Partisans and the Serbian Chetniks. The lengthy account by Wilmer S. Wallick of his crew getting shot down and becoming POWs by the Rumanians helped make our history complete. Tom Ramey provided articles about landing at the Isle of Vis, ditching and his POW experiences where we otherwise would not have covered these subjects. Tom also developed the material for the 743rd Squadron history. Dave "Stormy" Wolf gave us a fine account of his boat trip as did Allen Weitzenhoffer. Winfield S. Bowers, Jr. gave us an insight into fuel problems some had on combat missions. His son, Ned, a seasoned Pan American pilot, admired the skill of our pilots even though they only had a few hundred hours of flying time. The account of Wesley A. Poore giving his parachute to a fellow crewman to insure his safe escape from their crippled airplane was indicative of the combat crew's feelings for each other. Gene Hudson gave an account of a midair collision caused from enemy action. Louie Hansen and his lovely wife Fran developed the roster of personnel assigned to the Group, a most laborious task. Louie also provided his experiences as a tail gunner which helped make the history complete. Vic Mc Williams of the 741st gave an account of Rumanian doctors saving his life and Charles Rein of the 742nd provided a story of his long boat trip.

The Authors & Editor

Hugh R. Graff, Sr. was appointed Group Historian by the 455th Bomb Group Association, Inc. and undertook the writing of the Group history. When Al Asch became President of the Association in 1989, he volunteered to conduct the research and write certain portions of the book. Following this, Thomas A. Ramey volunteered to design and format the book, and manage its publication with our publisher. It took this team effort to develop a book of this size within a relatively short time.

The Authors

Alfred Asch
Colonel USAF
(Retired)

Alfred "Al" Asch was raised on a small farm in Beaverton, Michigan. He joined the Army Air Corps in September 1941 and graduated from flying school in the class of 42D and was assigned to the 93rd Bomb Group with B-24's. He was soon flying combat in late 1942 with the Eighth Air Force in England. While with the 93rd, Al went with the Group to North Africa and the Libyan Desert to help defeat the German forces led by Field Marshall Rommel. After completing 28 combat missions, he returned to the U.S. with Colonel Cool and others, and became part of the 455th Bomb Group as a Squadron Operations Officer. Following his combat in Italy, Al held several positions and accepted a regular officer appointment in the AAC. Along with this, he earned his Master's degree from the University of Pittsburgh. He had earned a Bachelor of Science Degree from Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant, Michigan. Al remained active as a flyer, earned his Command Pilot Wings and helped introduce automation to the Air Force starting in the early 1950s. He retired as a full Colonel in 1968 and worked for more than 16 years as a Systems Engineer for the automation of air traffic control functions by the Federal Aviation Administration.

In 1989, Al was elected President of the 455th Bomb Group Association and holds that position today. He earned the following awards and decorations: Legion of Merit; Distinguished Flying Cross with Oak Leaf Cluster (OLC); Air Medal with seven OLCs; Army Commendation Medal; Air Force Commendation Medal with one OLC; Purple Heart; Unit Citation with one OLC; American Defense Service Medal; American Campaign Medal; Asiatic Pacific Campaign Medal; European-African-Middle Eastern Campaign Medal with six Campaign Stars; WW II Victory Medal; Army of Occupation Medal; National Defense Service Medal; Korean Service Medal; United Nations Service Medal (Korea); and Air Force Longevity Service Award Medal.

Hugh R. Graff, Sr.
Colonel USAF Retired)

Hugh was born in New York City and moved to Ohio at the age of eight, thus considering himself a native Ohioan. He graduated from flying school in March 1941 with the class of 41-B and was assigned to the Second Bomb Group at Langley AAB, Virginia. Later, he was transferred to the 34th Bomb Group at Westover AAB, Massachusetts where he flew the B-18, B-17, B-23, LB-30 and B-24 bombers. When war broke out, he was assigned to anti-submarine patrol off the east coast of the United States. Following this, he was transferred to the Second Air Force on the west coast to train crews in B-17's and B-24's for combat duty. Hugh was assigned to the 455th Bombardment Group as Group Operations Officer when it was activated at Clovis AAB, New Mexico. In June 1944, he was appointed Deputy Group Commander. He flew 34 missions with the Group from Italy, was shot down on 26 August on a raid over Ploesti and captured by the Bulgarians. Hugh spent some time as a POW and led 350 others on an escape adventure to return to Italy in September 1944. He was returned to the U.S. where he served with the First Bomber Command.

Hugh left the Service in 1947 as a full Colonel and remained active with the Reserve Forces until his retirement in 1975. During his flying career, he earned his Senior Pilot Wings. When Hugh left the active Service, he went into business with the building industry until his retirement in 1988. He was awarded the following decorations and campaign medals: Distinguished Flying Cross; Air Medal with four Oak Leaf Clusters (OLC); Purple Heart; Commendation Ribbon; POW Medal; Unit Citation with OLC; French Croix de Guerre Avec Palm; American Defense Medal; American Campaign Medal; European-African-Middle Eastern Medal with six Campaign Stars; and the WW II Victory Medal.

The Editor

Thomas A. Ramey Lieutenant Colonel USAF (Retired)

Tom graduated from flying school with the last class of Flying Sergeants trained as pilots and was assigned to the Clovis Army Air Base as a B-24 instructor. He joined the Group with a crew at Salt Lake City, Utah and flew overseas as a first pilot along with others to Cerignola, Italy. Tom completed 42 combat missions 3 August 1944 when he was shot down over Germany and spent the remainder of the war in prisoner of war camps. Tom left the active service in 1947 but continued with the Wisconsin Air National Guard. He was recalled to active service as a pilot for support of the Korean conflict and saw additional service as a staff electronics officer and air weapons director. He retired from the Air Force with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel.

Tom attended the University of Wisconsin and Layton Art School. In civilian life, he held various management positions in marketing and advertising and lastly, as founder and president of Creative Dimensions, a national advertising agency. Tom received the following decorations and awards: Distinguished Flying Cross with one Oak Leaf Cluster (OLC); Purple Heart with one OLC; Air Medal with three OLCs; Unit Citation with one OLC; European-African-Middle Eastern Campaign Medal with ten Campaign Stars; WW II Victory Medal; National Defense Service Medal; Korean Service Medal; Armed Forces Reserve Medal; American Defense Service Medal with Clasp; American Campaign Medal; POW Medal; Wisconsin Air National Guard Longevity Service Medal; Wisconsin Air National Guard Commendation Medal; and the Captain Walter H. Write Medal.
